JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY

“Of all the world religions, Christianity plays the part of the shock battalion, the punishment brigade thrown in where things are most dangerous, at the hottest part of the front. Where the hand-to-hand fighting is thickest, there the death-battalion is thrown in. They blow up their bridges behind them.

Look at them, the heroes of Christendom. You won't find many prudent ones among them. Their story is a long succession of martyrdoms and deaths, undergone by a phalanx following their God's example. They are soldiers, displaying their scars and wounds to the world as decorations.

And who enlists with them? People of all nations, the scum of the earth, even criminals, but always those who have taken up the cross. Anyone can join: the ignorant, the sinful – provided he is ready to throw himself into the battle. It is the religion of maximum hope born of despair.

Nowhere do you find such close contact with death as in Christianity. Fear is not absent. But it is transformed into a force able to pierce a breach in the tomb and spurt out the other side. Not the contemplation of eternity, but the possession of eternity, in battle, with one sole weapon: the readiness to die.” (Andrei Donatovich Sinyavsky, Russian dissident)

Jesus asked his disciples, “Who do you say I am?” Peter replies: “The Christ of God.” Peter knows this to be so, not because he discovered the answer in a book, but because he looked at the facts of his own life. Since he had met Jesus Christ, he had changed. And the change that he experienced in his person can only be the work of a divine Person. Since the time Peter began to belong to Christ, he became more fully himself. God had poured out on him “a spirit of kindness and prayer.” Once Peter looked “on the one whom they have pierced”, he was able to make his profession with even more conviction, right up to the day of his own martyrdom. (Magnificat)

This Sunday is the Day for Life – There will be a second collection after both Masses this weekend. This year, Day for Life focuses on the wonder of the gift of human life and the gift of our common home which is God's creation. It provides an opportunity for people to think about the connections and relationships between people and the earth which we inhabit. Pope Francis has powerfully articulated in ‘Laudato Si’ that there is a real need to rediscover a spirit of wonder and awe at the gift of human life so that all life may be properly respected and a new heart created for the home in which we live. Further information can be found at www.dayforlife.org. There are prayer postcards at the back of church – please take one. As well as donating to the collection, please pray for Day for Life. Your prayers will make a vital difference.
